

Improve every aspect of your farm

What is an informed product ?

An informed product is simply either a liquid or a powder called the carrier material.

Liquid available : Molasses, Organic Molasses

Powder : Calcium carbonate, Bentonite, Sikron

On this medium, a particular vibration has been "recorded" on the same frequency as that naturally emitted by a target material, for example oxygen, humus, mycorrhizae etc. Thus this neutral support will bring with it the information of the target material and the environment will react to it for a limited time. This explains why using Penergetic products is the safest, most secure and ecological way to use them.

For example, by providing oxygen information in Penergetic G, the manure will conduct an aerobic fermentation, without ammonia release and will become odourless, fly-free, richer in releasable nitrogen, more liquid and regular. This eliminates the need for chemicals or bacteria that can then disrupt the natural balance of your soil.

By using the corresponding product for each aspect of your farm, you improve this aspect of your farm and you improve the following aspects. The effect is therefore ecologically and economically cumulative.